

KUROPATKIN AT TIE LING WITH ABOUT 100,000 MEN

Erects Hasty Fortifications to Stem Advance of Victorious Japanese Army

FOREIGN ATTACHES WITH RUSSIAN FORCE

Including Americans and Englishmen Captured at Mukden --Japs Start Another Turning Movement--How Japanese Won the Great Battle-- Latest War News.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—Although the general staff refuses to make public the position of the Russian forces at present there is no reason to doubt that General Kuropatkin with approximately 100,000 men, has reached Tie Ling safely and is engaged in erecting a hasty fortification of the Japanese before continuing his retreat.

London, March 14.—(Bulletin)—Your correspondent is today unable to secure the slightest confirmation of the optimistic peace reports emanating from Washington. Diplomats here say they have no information including an early end of hostilities. They add that the Washington view can hardly be more than that there is no reason to believe that any one except the Czar knows when peace will come. The present diplomatic view is that the Czar has not yet reached an unfavorable resolution one way or the other, and that any opinion either positive or negative, is merely a guess.

Tokyo, March 14.—A dispatch from the Japanese field headquarters today says most of the foreign attaches with the Russian army, including two American and two English officers, were captured at Mukden. Details of the fight of Okura's army near Liao-yang say it was most desperate. The Russian casualties were over 10,000 killed and wounded and the Japanese over 3,000. The Russian dead were left on the field in heaps, including many staff officers. Part of the extreme army reached the railway between Mukden and Tie Pass, destroying it, thereby preventing the trains from running north.

BARON HAYASHI

Hears the Japs Are Still Driving the Remnants of the Enemy Into the Mountainous Districts.

London, March 14.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese ambassador, has given out a statement saying, in the direction of the Shabke river, the Japanese continue driving the remnants of the enemy into the mountainous districts and in the section east of the Tie Ling road. A considerable number of Russian officers and men surrendered.

CZAR'S ESTATE

Plundered by Rebellious Peasants who Damage Property to Extent of a Million Dollars.

Berlin, March 14.—A dispatch from Moscow today states that the rebellious peasants have plundered the estates of the Czar and Grand Duke Vladimir and Nicholas in the provinces of Orel and Tchernigov. The peasants burned the Czar's country residence in the vicinity of Nijelja. The aggregate damage done the imperial estate is estimated at $1,000,000.

NOT OUT OF DANGER

Russian Remnants Strengthen Positions at Tie Pass—Japs Start New Turning Move.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—The Russian general staff reports that "the main body has already completed its retreat and the rear guard southward is falling back slowly." What either the "main body" or the "rear guard" consists of has not been definitely fixed, but from the press dispatches the two combined must be but a small portion of the army which General Kuropatkin had gathered along the banks of the Shabke and Hun rivers.

VERGE OF PEACE

Washington Thinks End of War Almost at Hand

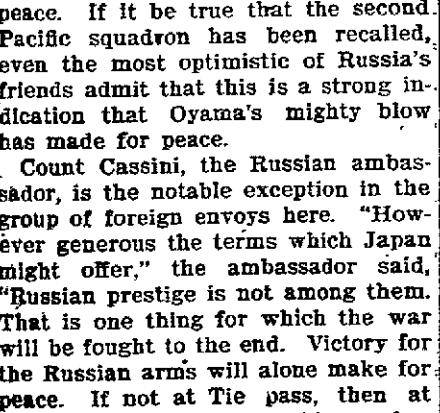

EMBASSIES DISCUSS OUTLOOK

Japan Would Welcome Cessation of Hostilities on Reasonable Terms --Cassini Talks.

Paris, March 14.—It is semi-officially announced today that the signing of a contract for a new Russian loan has been postponed. It is explained that owing to the uncertainty of military events in Manchuria, and of Russia's intentions respecting the continuance of the war, French banks and financiers naturally decline to sign a contract at present. The matter has been postponed until the Russian situation is thoroughly clear.

Washington, March 14.—When the czar calls his war council he will be able to inform them that Japan will welcome peace on reasonable terms, and will promptly name her conditions provided she receives trustworthy assurances that they will be seriously considered. This the emperor has learned from friendly chancelleries in Europe, as well as the general terms acceptable to Japan. These, it is expected, include the retention by Japan of Port Arthur, a Japanese protectorate over Korea, and an indemnity. From a high official it is learned that Russia has recalled her second Pacific squadron. An attaché of a Russian embassy in Europe is quoted as expressing the belief that Kuropatkin's recent defeat will force Russia to ask for peace.

Briefly these were the reports current in the diplomatic corps, and as a result of this important information official Washington believes that Russia and Japan are on the verge of peace.

peace. If it be true that the second Pacific squadron has been recalled, even the most optimistic of Russia's friends admit that this is a strong indication that Oyama's mighty blow has made for peace.

Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, is the notable exception in the group of foreign envoys here. "However generous the terms which Japan might offer," the ambassador said, "Russian prestige is not among them. That is one thing for which the war will be fought to the end. Victory for the Russian arms will alone make for peace. If not at Tie Pass, then at Harbin; Russia will assemble another army mightier than before, and with that army she will settle the issue. It may be six months, a year, or perhaps two years. Time will be no consideration." At the Japanese legation it is declared that St. Petersburg and not Tokyo is capital from which the world must hope for peace proposals. Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, said in the most emphatic manner that Japan had not directly proposed peace.

Peace Rumors at London.

London, March 14.—While reports of peace negotiations are not confirmed at the foreign office or the Russian or Japanese embassies, a distinct change of opinion obtains in diplomatic circles where heretofore talk of propositions for peace have been always minimized, but where now peace is evidently expected. This change is particularly noticeable at the Russian embassy, where it was stated that it was probable Emperor Nicholas, influenced by public sentiment, might consent to negotiations. It was said at the embassy that certainly no negotiations had hitherto been attempted by either of the belligerents, but "when negotiations commenced, it will not be through another power, but direct with Japan."

A total of $52,000,000,000 passed through the London clearing house, last year.

AFTER MEAT TRUST

War to the Knife Between Big Five and Twenty-Six Firms Known as the Independents.

Hazleton, Pa., March 14.—That an eight-hour day may be among the demands to be made by the mine workers of the anthracite coal region upon the expiration of the period covered by the award of the strike commission in 1906, is foreshadowed in the decision of the executive boards of the three anthracite districts in meeting here to send out circulars to all the locals calling upon the men to remain idle Saturday and observe April 1, the anniversary of the adoption of the eight-hour schedule in the competitive bituminous coal fields. One of the features of the celebration will be addresses by the officers and organizers upon the significance of the occasion.

EIGHT HOUR DAY

Among Demands to be Made by Anthracite Miners During the Coming Year in Pennsylvania.

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—In the lower house of the state legislature Representative McKinley of Chicago introduced an anti-trust bill drawn by Attorney General Stead, and endorsed by Governor Deneen. The definition of a trust is enlarged to include both life insurance companies and underwriters. The bill provides a system of graduated fines for corporations violating the act, a similar system for the officers of the corporations, and it is especially provided that any person or corporation injured by the operation of a trust shall be entitled to sue and recover twofold all damages sustained.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Carrying Dozen or More Into River at Los Angeles—High Water in California.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 14.—The Seventh street bridge over Los Angeles river fell, carrying with it into the flood-swelled river 12 to 15 persons, two of whom are believed to have been drowned. The list includes two unknown men, and their bodies are thought to have been carried down the river. Mrs. Clara Webb, rescued from the flood, was probably fatally hurt by falling timbers. The high water in the river had attracted a number of sight-seers to the bridge. The buttresses of the bridge had been weakened by the flood, and when a sudden swelling of the waters came the supports were carried away and the bridge collapsed.

ANTI-TRUST BILL

Introduced in Illinois Legislature by a Chicago Man—Definition of a Trust Enlarged.

Chicago, March 14.—War to the knife between the "big five" of the beef combine and 26 firms and corporations classed as independent packers, will, it is asserted, begin in Chicago, March 20, when the special federal grand jury begins its investigation of the affairs of the alleged beef combination. A fund of $3,000,000 has been raised to carry on the fight against the beef combine and packers the largest of the independent packers squarely before the public. It is said the intent of the so-called independent concern, Schwartzschild & Sulzberger, is concerned in the movement. The principal plants of the company are in Kansas City, but a large plant is operated by the same company in Chicago and a branch in New York.

Valuable Property Destroyed in Southern California—Vessels in Harbor Damaged.

Santa Barbara, Cal., March 14.—Many thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed in this city by the storm which has been in progress since Saturday. Telephone and telegraph communication with Los Angeles is entirely suspended. Every vessel in the harbor was damaged, entailing a loss of $41,000. The schooner Pridge, a gasoline schooner, was dashed to splinters, and the yachts Allene, Chevy and Belvedere and the fishing vessels met a similar fate. Breakers 2,000 feet high pounded against the newly constructed ocean boulevard and washed away 600 yards. Railroad traffic is entirely suspended.

On the completion of this case Cordova will be tried on the indictment charging him with having assaulted his wife.

PRESIDENT

Delivers an Address to the Mothers' Congress

DEFINES HIS POLICY IN THE FAMILY

Holds in Contempt Woman Who Deliberately Foregoes the Blessing of Children.

Washington, March 14.—President Roosevelt made an address at the session of the National Congress of Mothers, now in convention here. There was an immense crowd welcomed and the president was welcomed cordially. Mr. Roosevelt said:

No ordinary work done by a man is either as hard or as responsible as the work of a woman who is bringing up a family of small children, for upon her time and strength demands are made not only every hour of the day but often every hour of the night, and if the family means are scant she must usually enjoy even her rare holidays taking her whole brood of children with her. The trials and sorrows of the mother are made no less acute by the loneliness of quiet, self-sacrificing heroism. Inasmuch as I am speaking to an assemblage of mothers I shall have nothing whatever to say in praise of an easy life. Yours is the work which is never ended. No mother has an easy time, and most mothers have very hard times; and yet what true mother would barter her experience of joy and sorrow, which insists upon a life of cold selfishness, which exists upon perpetual anxiety, and the avoidance of care, and which often finds its fit dwelling place in some flat designed to furnish with the least possible expenditure of effort the maximum of comfort and luxury, but in which there is literally no place for children?

To the woman's keeping is committed the destiny of the generations to come after us. In bringing up your children you mothers must remember that while it is essential to be loving and tender, it is no less essential to be wise and firm. Teach them to work for themselves and also for others, is not a curse but a blessing; seek to make them happy, to make them enjoy life, but seek also to make them face life with the steadfast resolution to meet success from labor and adversity, and to do their whole duty before God and man.

There are many good people who are denied the supreme blessing of children, and for these we have the right and sympathy always due to those who, from some fault of their own, are denied any of the other great blessings of life. But the man or woman who deliberately foregoes these blessings, whether from viciousness, selfishness, or mere failure to appreciate the difference between the all-important and the unimportant—why, such a creature merits contempt.

The existence of women of this type forms one of the most unpleasant features of modern life. It is made evident in equally sinister fashion by the census statistics as to divorce, which are fairly appalling; for easy divorce is now as it ever has been, a ban to any woman who would be true to her home, and an immortality to married unhappiness and to immorality, an evil thing for men and a still more hideous evil for women.

PATRICK'S APPEAL

Effort Made to Show Millionaire Rice Was Not Murdered but Died of Natural Causes.

Albany, N. Y., March 14.—Before the court of appeals was argued the case of Albert T. Patrick, who was convicted of murder in the first degree in April, 1902, on the charge of having caused the death of William Marsh Rice, a New York millionaire, for whom he was confidential attorney. The case has become a noted criminal action in which public interest has become as great as in the Molinay case. The defense asks for a new trial on ground of newly discovered evidence and errors in the trial. An effort will be made to show that Rice was not murdered at all, but died from natural causes.

TO BOYCOTT ARKANSAS

New York, March 14.—The national board of fire underwriters, at a special meeting here, resolved to recommend the withdrawal of all fire insurance business in the state of Arkansas.

This action was taken because of the proposed enforcement of the anti-compact law by the Arkansas legislature. The bill becomes operative March 20 and will repeal a law that gave all police written in the state of Arkansas the right to search the papers of any person in which the insurance companies are named. It is designed to prevent among other things, action on uniform rates of fire insurance by companies doing business in Arkansas.

NINETEEN PEOPLE PERISH IN TENEMENT FIRE TODAY

Many Others are Injured in Early Morning Disaster in New York City

LIGHTED LAMP UPSET IN PAINT BARREL

Gallant Firemen Rescue Large Number of People But Avenues of Escape on Burning Structure Blocked and Work Rendered Difficult--One Man's Heroic Work.

New York, March 14.—The lives of nineteen persons, men, women and children, were snuffed out at 5 this morning in a tenement fire in the Ghetto district. Sixteen others were seriously injured by burns or falls. The firemen did little to check the flames except to keep them from spreading. They were too busy saving lives to attend to much else. The building was completely gutted. The bodies of the dead were removed to Eldridge street station, where hundreds pleaded for admission to see the bodies. Relatives and friends tried to effect identifications, but many of the bodies were so burned and charred that identification was almost impossible.

Amberlites were summoned from Guyanour, Bellevue, New York, Hudson street and St. Vincent hospitals, and the wounded and burned were treated on the streets after which they were removed to the hospitals.

Unable to Handle Traffic.

New York, March 14.—Traffic on all the elevated roads and in the subway was handled in a manner that failed to give adequate service during the rush hour. The people crowded the elevated and subway stations, fought to board expresses and avoided front and rear cars. Service in the subway was irregular, and at all stations the police and the employees were rendered almost helpless by the crowds on the platforms. A number of the old employees have been reinstated and they were given charge of the express, but the irregularity of the locals run by strike-breakers rendered the efforts to improve the service fruitless.

Jealous Man's Break.

Erie, Pa., March 14.—Enraged with jealousy, Joe Massucci, well known to the police of this city, tried to kill both a woman who had spurned him and a man whom she favored. The woman, Annie Richi and her favorite, Antonio Talarico, now lie close to death at the hospital. Massucci used a razor and a hatchet. When he finished both the man and woman were left unconscious. The woman's throat was cut almost from ear to ear and her face slashed and bruised by blows from the hatchet. The man was almost as seriously injured. The woman is still unconscious.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 14.—An encounter into violent hysteria by an encounter on the street Saturday night with a footpad, who robbed her of $10, Mamie Poopers, 18, lies at her home unable to recognize those about her and is only quieted while songs are sung to her. The attending physician thinks that the soothing influence of the music will eventually restore her to health.

THE MINISTER'S SWEETHEARTS. "The Minister's Sweethearts," G. H. Eison's successful comedy drama, will come to the Auditorium Saturday, March 18, matinee and night. The play deals with life as seen in small Indiana towns and is said to be one of strong morals and an interesting plot, enlivened by better dialogue than is usually found in the ordinary run of comedy dramas.

MISS JESSIE CLIFTON

It will be made notable by some pretty stage pictures and will be interpreted by a company of well known actors and actresses in their particular line of work. Miss Clifton who assumes the role of Daisy, one of the minister's sweethearts, has at once jumped to the front rank of successful stars. Since its initial performance the play is said to have met with favor in all the cities visited and will doubtless duplicate whatever measure of success it has had elsewhere when it is seen here. Already many theatre parties are being gotten up and this attraction promises to be one of the theatrical treats of the season. Seats will be one sale Wednesday.

Mulhane on Friday evening March 17, the drama "The Heart of a Hero," will be ably rendered by members of the Catholic Literary and Social Club under the direction of Mr. F. L. Garrity. BOSTON TEMPLE QUARTET. Newark lovers of vocal music are to have a rare opportunity at Taylor hall on Thursday evening of hearing a fine program. The Boston Temple Quartet will render their number on the Association entertainment course. This, the oldest quartet as regards organization on the public platform, is second to none. Their repertoire is replete with classical, light and humorous selections. This number should be patronized by the regular entertainment course goes and by many others who appreciate high grade work in musical and literary art.

ISLE OF SPICE. B. C. Whitney will offer his most successful musical miniature, the "Isle of Spice" at the Auditorium soon.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

SOAP THE BAIT

Catch Was Diamond Brooch Worth $15,000

POOR NEW YORKER REWARDED

For Accidental Find by Rich Man—Jewel Had Been Lost at a Theatre.

New York, March 14.—Mrs. T. Edwin Ward of Riverside Drive and One Hundred and Fourteenth street, is rejoicing over the recovery of a $15,000 diamond brooch and a man who until yesterday afternoon was a wanderer in the streets is happy in the possession of a $1,000 bill.

Mrs. Ward and her husband went to the Garrick theatre Saturday night. She wore, among other jewels, a brooch which is said to be unique. It consists of three stones, set in the shape of a clover leaf. One is a white diamond, another a brown diamond and the third a brilliant canary colored stone. Each gem was perfectly matched and of the so-called twentieth century cut. They weigh 23 carats.

After the performance Mr. and Mrs. Ward drove to Rector's for supper. When seated at the table Mrs. Ward discovered that her brooch was missing.

After a hurried search of the dining room they drove to the theatre, and with the aid of the watchman, went over every inch of the auditorium without success.

Mrs. Ward was in despair. Police headquarters were notified and several detectives were sent out on the case. Sunday Mr. Ward inserted an advertisement in the newspapers offering a reward of 1000 for the return of the brooch. The finder was directed to bring it to William A. Clevenger, No. 16 Maiden Lane, the jeweler from whom Mrs. Ward purchased the brooch two years ago.

Mr. Clevenger was called upon yesterday afternoon by a man who showed him the advertisement and asked if the offer of $1,000 was made in good faith. The jeweler assured him that he money was ready for any one who could produce the gems.

"Well," said the man, "I will bring the thing here within an hour." The visitor was very nervous and apparently afraid of arrest. He said he would bring his sister, as she had the brooch and would attend to the business end of the transaction.

"The fellow looked like a tramp," said Mr. Clevenger, "and I was sorry for his plight. It was only after many questions that I got from him the story of how he found the jewel. He said that about 5 o'clock Sunday morning he was walking through Thirty-fifth street, and as he passed the Garrick Theatre he glanced down through an iron grating in the sidewalk in front of what is called the Court exit. He saw something glittering at the bottom of the vault.

"He hurried to Engel's cafe and borrowed a piece of soap from the toilet room. Fastening the soap on the end of a long stick he fished for the shining article several minutes before he succeeded in making it adhere to the soap. The chap said he nearly fainted when he saw what he had caught. He hurried to his sister's home, where he had not been welcomed, for many days and showed her what he had found. When he returned with his sister she had the brooch tightly clutched in her hand. She refused to give it up until she was assured the $1,000 would be paid over at once."

"BILL" REID

Will Return to Harvard, Determined to Give the Crimson a Winning Football Team.

Cambridge, Mass., March 14—"Bill" Reid, the "czar" of all the Harvard men, will return to Cambridge this week to start in on his determined campaign to down the Elis next fall. It is rather an early beginning, but Reid has made up his mind to avenge the defeats of the past three years and will leave nothing undone to accomplish his purpose.

The Harvard football schedule has not been announced yet and probably will not be until next month.

Two big games have been definitely arranged however, Yale playing in Cambridge November 25 and Harvard in Philadelphia against Pennsylvania November 11. Columbia, Brown, Dartmouth, Carlisle Indians and Williams are sure of places on Harvard's schedule, but concerning the other teams there is considerable doubt.

Harvard's season will be one week longer than during the past four years, and that means that an extra game will be added to the list.

ATHLETIC AGREEMENT RENEWED

New Haven, Conn., March 14.—Yale and Harvard have decided to let their two years' athletic agreement renew itself. It expires March 16, and according to the original agreement which was signed March 15, 1893, it is self-renewing unless either university gives notice that it is to be broken. Some new rules will probably be inserted in the agreement, one probably relating to summer baseball, but these can be drawn up and inserted at any time as well as when the agreement starts on another two years' run. Since the present two year agreement was adopted in 1903 Yale has won three-fourths of the contests played. Yale has lost the annual series in baseball, but has won regularly in rowing, on the track and at football.

MANY NAMES SUGGESTED.

The names are coming in at Toledo. One fan wants to call the "Mud Hens" the "Water Lilies." Another says "Buckeyes." Another still believes that "Grillitoes" would look good. Now it's a safe bet that the fans will call them just what they please when the show opens. That's the way the fans have of doing.

It is a safe proposition to bet that under Grillo's management the Toledo team will be a winner. J. Ed is not the first newspaper man who has laid down the pen to take up the reins of baseball management who has made good. He understands the game thoroughly and will be a strict, though reasonable disciplinarian.

BIG CHECKER MATCH.

Boston, March 14.—Not till tomorrow afternoon will the international checker match begin. The visiting team from Great Britain arrived yesterday and were banqueted last night by the American committee. Several of the visitors were in a bad way physically, after their tempestuous voyage across the Atlantic, and in deference to their representations, the opening of the match was postponed one day.

The general arrangements as finally concluded by the joint committee of both sides provide for two sessions a day, at 1:30 and 7 p. m. respectively, with two games at each session. The time limit of play will be five minutes for any move calling for consideration and one minute for forced moves. No opening shall be played twice. The referees will be Frank A. Fitzpatrick of Boston, and Alexander Bryson of Glasgow.

SPORTS AT GREAT SOUTHERN.

Columbus, O., March 14.—At the Great Southern theatre last night Gus Bezenah of Cincinnati, and "Big" Mackey fought six rounds, Mackey having a shade the better of the bout. No decision was given. "Jack" Whitaker, of Akron, knocked out "Eddie" Bowers of Columbus in two rounds. Herbert Lape of the Southern Athletic club, in four rounds won the featherweight championship of Ohio from Andrew Malone. Other bouts were between Kid Wilson of Cincinnati, and Walter Potter of Columbus. Al Ackerman's work was a feature. The Fostoria welterweight wrestler twice out Gus Schultz's shoulder to the mat in five minutes. Schultz is from Newark. The first fall came in 2:04 and in another 3 minutes Schultz was again down. Jed Tonneman of Chicago, was then twice thrown by Ackerman in 23 minutes. Ackerman issued a challenge to any 40-pound wrestler in the country for a side bet of $1,000.

Take Courage!

If you are naturally not as strong as your more fortunate sisters, and for this reason experience dread rather than joy at the prospect of becoming a mother, take courage and assurance from this fact: Mother's Friend is meant for you, and by its use you may pass through that glorious martyrdom which is yours by divine right with no more discomfort than that experienced by those who by nature are possibly more adapted for the role of motherhood.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is a liniment of proven merit, and its great worth can be no better attested to than by the countless strong and healthy children who through its kindly offices have entered this world unhandicapped by any deformity or weakness. It is a liniment which by external application acts upon the abdominal muscles and permits of a painless parturition.

Chicken Thieves Busy.

Reports have been coming in during the past few days of chicken thieves plying their avocation in various parts of the city. Monday night thieves entered the henery of Mr. J. W. Buchanan, on Monday and received a warm greeting from his numerous friends. Mr. Hill has just returned from a trip of several months to Texas and New Mexico, where he has been in the interest of the companies he represents, during the winter. He has been in the employ of the McCormick Harvester company for nearly 10 years past. He now holds the responsible position of traveling collector for the International Harvester company of America, consisting of the McCormick, Deering, Milwaukee, Champion, Plano and Osborne companies. Mr. Hill is at present the only collector for the Columbus house. He has advanced constantly ever since his first connection with the

McCormick company, and is now considered one of the very best men on the road.
Mr. Hill, as every one who knows him knows, is a bright and wide awake hustler, and his genial manner makes him deservedly popular everywhere,
and gives him great success as a collector.
When he can't make a claim without

Odd Fellows Will Make Some Extensive
Repairs and Use Third Floor Themselves.

The joint committee from Mt. Olive Encampment No. 12, Olive Branch Lodge, No. 34, and Newark Lodge
622, met Monday night at the I. O. O. F.
hall and decided to buy the Baker
Block, upon which they held an option.

On Tuesday morning the committee had power to act, consummated the deal.
The consideration involved is $19,000,
and the building which is located just east of the Advocate office will be fitted up for one of the most modern lodge rooms in Ohio.
The Odd Fellows of Newark include some of the most progressive citizens, and the lodges here are recognized as some of the best in Ohio. They have two years yet in their present home, and it is not known at this time when possession will be taken.

Work will progress slowly, as some of the tenants now in the building have leaves which have not yet expired.

The third floor will be fitted up for a lodge room. The second will also be rented to private families, while the lower floor will be rented as store rooms.

for a home for some time and have failed heretofore to secure desirable quarters. This is the first secret organization in Newark to purchase a home of their own.

Glass block, one of the largest buildings in the city, was destroyed by fire,
a number of adjacent buildings damaged, and only strenuous efforts of the fire department and a fortunate fall of snow prevented a much greater conflagration. The loss, $150,000, is partly insured. The principal losers were J. B. & D. Richards, owners of the building, who occupied the first floor as a dry goods store.

A Japanese diplomat of high rank is credited with the cutting remark that whereas for half a century Japan has been sending to Europe examples of art of admittedly high character in its pottery and weaving designs, which were the despair of European competitors, yet on the very eve of the twentieth century the Japanese were still excluded from European markets by the general opinion of those "in the trade" that they did not belong to the category of civilized nations. "But," added the Japanese diplomat in substance, "within the past year we have managed to slay some 70,000 Europeans, and, behold, you accept us as 'civilized.'" And it is still further pointed out by the keen-witted diplomatist that not only has Japan shown the capacity to organize and use the military power so highly respected in the West, but she has taught Europeans something more in the intelligent care she takes of her soldiers—that is, to save lives. She has employed the armies cared for in this scientific manner solely for the defense of her vital interests and for the attainment of commercial rights which she stands ready to share with the whole world. Japan is teaching the European powers' great lessons and duties, and they apply to other powers than Russia, which is just now undergoing a severe course of Japanese discipline and instruction. On the whole the Japanese diplomat makes an unanswerable showing that his country is entitled to the credit of being civilized. In the stern lessons of war, and many of the acts of peace, she is the superior of her would-be teachers.

There were many interesting things that occurred in the last session of the Fifty-eighth Congress. Among them was the impeachment of Judge Charles Swayne, of the Northern District of the State of Florida, by the House of Representatives, sitting as a Grand Jury, and the failure of the Senate to convict him on the testimony. It was purely a political trial on the part of the Senate. Swayne is a Republican, and although the testimony was sufficient to convict almost any man, he was turned loose to again perpetrate outrages on a helpless people. It was understood that if acquitted he would resign his position, but so far there is no evidence that any such understanding was had.

AGAINST HERRICK

Petitions Signed in Rev. Carl Doney's Church at Columbus—Movement to Spread Over State.

Columbus, O., March 14.—At King avenue Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday the first petition for signatures of Columbus voters opposing the re-nomination of Governor Herrick, made its appearance. Rev. Carl G. Doney, pastor of the church, announced the fact that the petitions would be in the hands of representatives in the corridors of the church.

The invitation is extended only to Republican voters, and it is presumed that they were the only ones to affix their signatures. Seventy-five names were secured.

The petitions will probably be placed in the hands of the pastors of other churches within the next few weeks. They have been going the rounds of the churches of the state for more than a month, and after the names are secured, they are sent to the Ohio Anti-Saloon league.

SIX VOTERS

And Four Are Women, But the Election Formalities Must Be Carried Out.

Bucyrus, O., March 14.—The Crawford county Election Board has been in session several times during the last few weeks, arranging for a school board election in a district in the northern part of this county in which there are just six voters, four of whom are women.

The district is united with a part of Seneca county, and the majority of the voters are in that county, but in order that the Crawford county electors may enjoy the full privilege of suffrage it has been necessary for both county Election Boards to make all due preparations for the election. To properly cast the six Crawford county votes the Election Board has had to meet and call an election, advertise for bids to print the six ballots, which must be consecutively numbered, perforated, bound and contain the facsimile signatures of the Election Board. They will have to meet again in order that the printer may turn over to them the package containing the ballots which must be sealed in their presence, and will have to appoint judges and clerks of election to conduct the balloting, and the Board will have to meet after the election to canvass the votes in order that the full intent of the law may be carried out.

ANNIVERSARY OF SALVATION ARMY

LOCAL MEMBERS TAKING DEEP INTEREST IN EVENT OF MARCH 25-29.

Organization Has Been in the United States 25 Years and Has Had a Very Wonderful Growth.

Local members of the Salvation Army are taking deep interest in the forthcoming celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Army's existence in the United States. The ceremonies attending this event will be held in Carnegie and Music halls in New York City, March 25-29, and will be under the direction of Commander Eva Booth. Twenty-five years ago there were only eight members of the Army in the United States, but at the anniversary there will be gathered several hundred officers and soldiers from all parts of the country, representing in their turn many additional hundreds, all of whom toil, pray and live for the betterment of their fellowmen.

This mighty organization has come to be recognized by all classes alike, not only in the United States, but in almost every country on the globe, as the greatest agency the world has ever known for reclamation and reformation of criminals and evildoers of all grades and types, and for the practical, permanent aiding of the poor and unfortunate.

The first country outside of England, to be affected by the work of the Salvation Army was America. As far back as 1872, when it was in its embryonic condition, and was only known as "The Christian Mission," one of its converts, "Brother Jermy," found his way to Cleveland, O., and there to use General Booth's expression in answering his letters, "raised the banner of the Mission." It was impossible at that early date to send reinforcements, and hence the work fell through with the departure of Jermy.

In 1879 a second start was made by a family named Shirley. This time it was in Philadelphia that operations were commenced, in an old factory. The urgent appeal for help sent to General Booth met with an immediate response, and in February, 1880, Commissioner George Scott Raiton, with a band of seven "halloo-lah" lassies, landed in New York.

Opposition, ridicule, persecution and even imprisonment were met with, for the work of the Army was but little known and less understood in those days. None of these things, however, served to dampen the ardor of workers, and ere long it was apparent that the Salvation Army had come to America to stay.

The first convert of the army in America was a notorious character of those days; a drunkard, a general nuisance to the community, who came to be known as "Ash-barrel Jimmy" from the manner in which he gained his living.

For many years the army confined itself entirely to purely spiritual operations, but with the arrival of the late leaders, Commander and Mrs. Booth Tucker, in 1896, the social, or philanthropic side of the movement was brought to the front, and institutions for helping the poor were opened as fast as men and money could be obtained.

Farm colonies, with the object of assisting the poor but worthy and industrious married man to obtain a home, were established in Ohio, Colorado and California. The difficulties met with their establishment were overwhelming and seemingly endless, but today these colonies, in excellent condition, exist as proof that the scheme is not a visionary, but a practical one, and capable of almost unlimited extension and improvement.

Hotels for workmen—and the same for women—have been opened, where clean, comfortable accommodations can be secured for a merely nominal sum. These are a great boon to the respectable working classes.

Rescue and children's homes, and many other institutions for helping the poor and needy, are also successfully conducted by the Army.

Bright's Disease Cured

By Thompson's Barosma. No Return of the Disease after Six Years.

I had been troubled with Kidney and Liver complaint for several years. I had suffered with a dull, heavy pain across the back. I had gradually become all run down. A great deal of the time my stomach was filled with gas and I was growing very nervous and was constantly suffering with headache. Finally I discovered a white, cloudy sediment in my urine which frightened me, for I knew then I had Bright's Disease. I began taking Thompson's Barosma, Kidney and Liver Cure at once and three bottles seemed to cure me, but to insure a permanent cure I took three bottles more. Although this was six years ago, I have had no bad symptoms since and have been perfectly free from pain—FRANK K. STRONG, Sturtevant, Crawford Co., Pa. Thompson's Barosma 50c. and $1.00. Salvation Army in America, roughly estimated, is as follows:
Officers and employees 3,706
Corps and Outposts 736
Institutions for poor and needy 143
Farm colonies 3
Expended annually in poor relief $300,000

The entire month of March, leading up to and including the congress, is being specialized by a series of great meetings, conducted by various leading officers of the Army in all the cities in the United States, and the climax will come in the great congress to be held in New York on the above mentioned date.

The Best Lot Proposition Ever Offered to The Citizens of Newark

Owing to the fact that a number of citizens of Newark have expressed a desire to buy lots adjoining the new United States Navy Yard, about five miles from Charleston, South Carolina, from Messrs. Bolton and Wilcox, a number of them will be placed on sale. Those who take the trouble to investigate will find it the best lot proposition ever offered in the City of Newark. There will be twenty millions spent to complete this yard, and about four thousand men employed or as many men as are employed in all the shops in Newark combined. The first mechanics to the number of five hundred will be sent there this fall upon the completion of the dry dock. Sewer, water and granolithic sidewalks are guaranteed on each street. The gate of the Navy Yard opens into this property and the electric car line runs through the entire length of the property to the Navy Yard gate. These lots will be sold on payment of ten dollars a month without interest or taxes until paid for. Your money cannot help doubling itself in a short time, as the history of all Navy Yards has been that they have made large cities in a few years. We have made contracts with a number of Newark people to go there to work on this property. Those desiring to buy lots may call on us at 14 1/2 North Second street or buy them from the agents we have appointed. Office open evenings. Pictures and plat of property may be seen in the window of the room formerly occupied by Sachs Bros., on the east side of the square.

F. G. WARDEN HURT IN SOUTH

HIS CAB IS OVERTURNED BY A MOTOR CAR AT NEW ORLEANS.

Able to Leave Hospital on Crutches After Four Days—Now En Route to Pacific Coast.

Mr. Eugene F. Tuttle, of the Hotel Warden, received a letter Tuesday morning from Captain Frank G. Warden, giving details of a serious injury sustained by Mr. Warden a few days ago at New Orleans, La.

Captain Warden left Newark a short time ago to join his wife and mother at Los Angeles, Cal., and to accompany them home by way of Seattle and Portland, Ore. While in New Orleans Mr. Warden was being driven from one railway station to another when a careless bus driver allowed his cab to be struck by a motor car. The cab was overturned and Mr. Warden was badly hurt. One knee and hand were badly hurt and the ligaments in one shoulder severely strained. Captain Warden was taken to a hospital in New Orleans where he remained four days under a surgeon's care. While in the hospital he was given much attention by the Elks and by the proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, Mr. Blakey. On the 9th inst. the Captain left the hospital on crutches and proceeded to San Antonio, Tex., from which city he wrote to Mr. Tuttle. He is still suffering from his injury, but is making a gradual improvement and will at once continue his journey to the Pacific coast.

RESISTS OUSTER

Proprietor of Candy Store Will Fight Effort to Get Him Out of the Eli Hull Building.

The proprietor of the Sparta Confectionary store on North Third street, said to the Advocate Tuesday morning that he would not leave the room without a fight in the courts. He said that he has a long lease on the room and will try to maintain his rights. He remarked that he did not understand why Mr. Hull could not obtain insurance on the property as he said he has been able to carry insurance on his stock of goods all the time he has been in the room.

As stated in this paper Monday, Mr. Eli Hull has begun an action to oust the tenants from this building on the ground that the block has been condemned and that he cannot secure any insurance on the property. Mr. Hull told the Advocate Monday that it is his intention to erect a new building from six to eight stories high on this site.

WORKMEN DIG UP MAN'S BONES

Discovery of Skeleton and Pair of Boots Back of Critics Candy Kitchen Leads to Conjectures—Congdon Disappearance Recalled.

Late Monday afternoon while workmen were engaged in making the excavation for the foundation for the new addition in the rear of the James E. Thomas building, on the South Side of the Public Square, occupied by the Critics' Candy Kitchen, they came across a gruesome find.

In making the excavation they broke into an unused vault some feet beneath the surface, filled with old rubbish and broken brick, and in the bottom of the vault, covered over with debris, they found the skeleton of a man, which were in a good state of preservation. The skeleton was that of a man of medium size, and a pair of old boots were lying beside the bones as if they belonged to the skeleton. The bones were gathered together in a pile, outside of the excavation, and an effort will be made to identify them.

There are numerous conjectures as to how the skeleton happened to be where it was found, in a situation that certainly indicates foul play, and various theories and suggestions have been made as to the origin of the ghastly find.

A reporter conversing with Mr. George L. Warner, who has been a citizen of Newark all his life, and who is unusually well informed, and always keeps track of local events of interest, was informed that about 50 years ago a man by the name of Congdon kept a grocery on the canal front, just east of Tenney & Morgan's warehouse. The warehouse at that time was kept by Mr. L. K. Warner, father of George L. Warner.

Congdon disappeared suddenly one night and was never heard of again, and it was thought that he had either done away with himself in some remote place where he could not be found, or that he had been murdered. The finding of this skeleton in such proximity to the place where Congdon disappeared suggests that possibly the bones dug up on Monday may be those of Congdon, and that the ghastly find, if all the circumstances could be developed, might disclose another case of foul play, and prove again for the thousandth time the truth of the old adage, that "murder will out." However that may be, the bones will be preserved and the vault and its vicinity thoroughly searched, as other evidence may be found which may tell whose bones they are, and how they came to be where they were found.

Mr. Griff Rosebrough, another old resident of Newark, says that he distinctly remembers the occurrence of Congdon's mysterious disappearance, and the excitement it produced. He says that shortly after Congdon disappeared, his wife conducted a respectable house almost opposite Congdon's former place of business, across the canal, and that her actions led many to believe that she had murdered her husband. So strong was this belief that a party of men visited her home one night and dug up the cellar with the expectation of finding the remains of her husband.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy, Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GRIGGS STORE

New Carpet and Drapery Section was Thrown Open Thursday Afternoon. Marsh Orchestra Present.

The Griggs store was closed this morning to perfect arrangements in the new carpet and drapery department which was opened Tuesday afternoon to the public.

Many people were present to enjoy the music by the Marsh orchestra and to admire the improvements made in the enlarged store. The big store, stocked as it is with the choicest of materials and fitted up in inviting style, is today more attractive than ever.

Manager Mazzy is to be complimented upon the good judgment and taste he has exercised in this most recent improvement at this popular store.

ROOSEVELT AND 1908.

His Uncle Tells How the President May Run For Another Term.

Robert B. Roosevelt, a prominent New York Democrat and uncle to President Roosevelt, suggested when he was recently interviewed at Washington by a representative of the New York Press that his nephew might be the nominee for both the Democratic and Republican parties four years hence.

"We have taken in even Bryan this time," said Mr. Roosevelt, with a laugh, "for we intend to have all elements of the party represented. But Bryan, you know, like many other Democrats," he added, with a twinkling eye, "has become a warm admirer of President Roosevelt."

This led to conversation especially interesting, considering Mr. Roosevelt's close relationship with the Republican party and his own Democratic proclivities. The president's uncle was asked if the president would consider another nomination should the Republican party demand his acceptance in 1908.

"No, I do not believe he would," was the reply. "He is strong minded, and when he says a thing he means it. I do not believe he could be induced to accept a mere partisan nomination again. You know, Richard Croker suggested we might make the nomination for president unanimously next time."

"Do you believe there is a possibility of that happening?" "It does seem impossible, doesn't it? But I have been amazed to hear many Democrats subscribe to the suggestion. If such a movement should develop, I am sure the president would accept another nomination. We Democrats seem to have been bereft of both principles and candidates, for, after all, President Roosevelt represents the best principles of the Democratic party. I cannot see why he should not be acceptable to us as a candidate four years hence."

"He has had a remarkable career. The popular support given to him at the polls last November showed that Democrats as well as Republicans voted for him, and many would vote for him again if the election were tomorrow. Even the southern sentiment is changing remarkably in the president's favor as the southern people come to understand him better. The president is trying to be the president of all the people, and if he lives there is no telling what may happen in 1908 to add to his unusual honors."

HOCH'S "SET 'EM UP."

Kansas Governor's Explanation of Message to State Legislature.

Governor Edward W. Hoch of Kansas sent a message to the legislature a few days ago suggesting that Representative Trigg of Anderson should "set 'em up" for having the same bill passed twice, says a Topeka dispatch. Senator Waggoner thought that "set 'em up" was a queer expression for the governor of a prohibition state to use, so had a resolution adopted asking the governor to explain.

Governor Hoch sent this explanation: To the Senate—I am in receipt of senate resolution No. 40, introduced by the senator from Atchison county, requesting me to explain what was meant by the term "set 'em up" as used in my veto message of senate bill No. 34. This expression, used playfully and without having any particular meaning and possibly hardly comporting with the dignity of your body, seems to have had, if not a good effect at least an unexpected effect in that it has caused the enigmatical corpse of the Kansas Democracy to take on the semblance of life and sit up and take notice. The belief in miracles is here strengthened by absolute proof, showing that the proper call will restore animation of the dead. If the angel Gabriel, standing with one foot on land and one on sea, were to blow such a blast from his trumpet that the mountains should rock to their bases, the Democratic party would probably sleep on undisturbed, but if he were even to whisper the magic words "set 'em up" the graveyard of this moribund organization would give up its dead, and from the entire aggregation, headed by the talented and handsome senator from Atchison, would come the answer in swelling chorus: "We will take the same."

Visiting Cards For Dogs.

The fashion of having visiting cards for dogs has lately come into vogue in Paris, and many society women who are possessors of toy dogs have not only furnished their pets with a full wardrobe down to handkerchiefs worn in a tiny pocket of a blanket which is made to resemble a miniature box overcoat as nearly as possible, but are insisting that the social side of dogdom should be looked after, says the Boston Herald. The cards are generally much smaller than a man's visiting cards, and it is customary to bestow the family name upon the pet. Thus, I presume, it would be "Velours Nom Vanderbilt" if that favored animal paid visits of ceremony, card case in hand—no, paw!

Song of the Automobile.
Lord of all moving things
Speeding on brazen wings,
Gayly dash through the highway's
bright gleam;
Sharply the iron rings,
Vid its quiverings,
As I go flashing past meadow and stream!
Loudly my heart doth sing,
As to wheel I cling,
Pulsing in time to the motor's swift beat,
Joyous all care I fling,
Riding the rushing wind,
Bear it away to some distant retreat.
Made the horn I sound,
Furrow the air I dash around,
Kiss the wind I feel behind,
Coursing like fleetest bound,
Not on time a flying trail,
Oh, could I catch him, the life stealing
knight!
With the people stare,
As I dash by, and there,
Shouting the shout with long tail of dust,
So I dash on, the life stealing
knight!
Haste I've gained a to wit dry up and bust!

Sprague; 12,472, The Real Estate and Improvement company of Baltimore City vs. Mary Meekley et al.; 12,792, Nellie Patsch vs. Henry Patsch et al. Thursday, March 16—Case 11,555, Dennis Hickey vs. J. C. Anderson; 12,327, Licking Mining Co. vs. J. E. Sloan et al. Friday, March 17—Motions for new trials.

Motions for New Trials. In the Court of Common Pleas motions for new trials in cases heard at the present term will be disposed of on Friday of this week.

Last Day of Term. Saturday next will be the last day of the present term of Common Pleas court.

Circuit Court. Circuit court convenes on the 28th for a four weeks' session.

Motion for New Trial. In the case of the Henry C. Werner company vs. J. K. Lungeleiter, the plaintiff, by his attorneys, Fulton & Fulton, has filed a motion for a new trial, for the following reasons:

First. Irregularity in the proceedings of the court by which the party was prevented from having a fair trial. Second. That the verdict is not sustained by sufficient evidence and is contrary to law.

Third. Newly discovered evidence material for the party applying, which could not, with reasonable diligence, have been discovered and produced at the trial.

Fourth. Error of law occurring at the trial and explained by the party making the application.

Petition in Error. In the case of Martha J. Coghlin vs. Oren Stewart and H. E. Brown, the plaintiff has filed a petition in error in the Common Pleas court.

To Dissolve Attachment. In the case of Geo. P. Webb, receiver of the Homestead Building and Savings company vs. Mary J. Lungeleiter, the plaintiff has been notified that a motion to dissolve the attachment issued in this case has been filed, and that the same will be pressed for hearing on March 17. Smythe & Smythe, attorneys for the defendant.

Defendant is Insane.

Wm. H. Owens has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against his wife, Sarah E. Owens, an insane person, and Frank C. King, guardian. The plaintiff says that he is the owner of certain real estate in Union township, Licking county, and in Fairfield county. He says that Sarah E. Owens is his wife and has a contingent right of dower in all the parcels of real estate described. That on or about the 10th of January, 1902, his wife was adjudged insane by the Probate court at Columbus, where she is still confined.

That on December 27, 1902, the defendant, Frank C. King, was appointed and qualified as guardian of the estate of Sarah E. Owens by the Probate court of Licking county.

Plaintiff says he has agreed to sell the first parcel consisting of two acres at Union Station for $250, and that he has also agreed to sell to Viola J. Brumelle the second and third parcels of real estate located at Union Station, for a consideration of $500; also that he has contracted to sell the fourth and fifth parcels of land, located in Fairfield county and consisting of 3.27 acres and 3.50 acres for $400.

Plaintiff asks that he may be authorized by the court to make deed to the purchasers of the several parcels of real estate, free and clear from the contingent dower interest of Sarah E. Owens, and that the court may protect and safeguard the rights and interests of Sarah E. Owens on the subject of sale of real estate in which an insane person has a contingent dower interest.

Plaintiff therefore asks the court for a decree and judgment releasing and discharging all the parcels of real estate from the innumerable of the contingent right of dower, and shall adjudge the said parcels of real estate to hold the same free and clear from said dower interest, and shall find and determine the value of the interest of Sarah E. Owens, and shall order the investment of the same. G. C. Daugherty, attorney for plaintiff.

Action for Divorce.

Ethan Johnson by his attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has commenced a suit in the Probate court for divorce from his wife, Hennaetta Johnson. The parties were married May 10, 1901, and no children were born of the marriage. Plaintiff says that on the 10th of June, 1902, the defendant abandoned him, and from that time until the present time she had been wilfully absent from him, and has totally neglected to perform any of her duties as a wife. The plaintiff says he was the father of a child about 8 years old at the time of the separation, and that the defendant, refused to permit the child to live at home. Plaintiff says that most of the time he was compelled to do his own cooking. Plaintiff also says that his wife was away from her home at nights, and when he remonstrated with her she answered by saying it was "her business where she had been;" that the defendant was the mother of three living children, which she kept at his home, two of whom were old enough to provide for themselves.

Court House Items. In the case of Lizzie DeWalt vs. Oliver S. DeWalt, suit for divorce, the plaintiff has filed a supplementary petition.

Martin Johnson, unmarried, aged 52 years, residing in Washington township, was brought before the Probate court on Tuesday morning on an affidavit of insanity filed by M. M. Shipley, also of Washington township. The court after hearing the evidence, adjudged Johnson insane, and he was taken over to Columbus and placed in the State Hospital Tuesday afternoon.

LAID UP IN BED

One Bottle Relieved.

James DeViney, for nine years with Messinger's livery stable in Findlay, O., had suffered for four years with sciatic rheumatism and had been confined to his bed with it for eight weeks when he began taking Jamaica Rheumatic Cure. Here is what he says: "One bottle of Jamaica Rheumatic Cure has done me more good than $40 worth of other medicines. I had been laid up in bed with sciatic rheumatism for eight weeks. After using half a bottle of Jamaica Rheumatic Cure I was able to get out of the house, and by the time I had finished the bottle I was back to work again. It did for me what all the doctors and all the other medicines had failed to do, and I believe it saved my life." For sale in Newark, Ohio by F. D. Hall.

PIG AND DOG

Were Dressed in Men's Clothing—Then the Doctors and Experts Shot at Them.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 14.—The carcasses of a pig and a dog were exhibited to the jury in the trial of Paul H. Schmidt, the youth accused of the murder of William Taylor, a farm hand employed on the estate of W. H. Crittenden, in Sherman last August. The animals had been subjected, to tests by medical men employed by the defense as experts on gunshot wounds. Dressed in men's clothing so that the effect on both the fabric and living tissue could be noted, the animals were made the targets of shotguns, fired at different distances.

Witnesses for the state have asserted that judging from the character of the wounds on Taylor's body, he must have been at least ten feet away from Schmidt when the fatal shot was fired. As a result of the animal experiments, the experts for the defense testified that the men could not have been more than four or six feet apart at the time of the shooting.

Their testimony is in support of the contentions of the defense that Schmidt shot Taylor in self-defense immediately after a struggle for the possession of the gun.

A UNIQUE RECORD. Not Another Like It in Our Broad Republic.

To give positive home testimony in every locality is of itself unanswerable proof of merit; but when we add to this the continued endorsement from people who testified years ago no evidence can be stronger. A Newark citizen gratefully acknowledges the good received from Doan's Kidney Pills and when time has tested the cure we find the same hearty endorsement, with added enthusiasm and continued praise. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills, and such a record is unique in the annals of medicine.

E. Frank Edwards, plasterer, of 152 Ash St., Newark, O., says: "I had backache and had it bad. For several years I was suffering from sharp shooting pains in the region of the kidneys and a dull aching and weakness in the back which was becoming very serious. I tried remedy after remedy without finding relief and I nearly lost hope when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained at Clayton's drug store. It was a gratifying surprise to find after a few doses of this remedy the pain seemed somewhat abated and I continued the treatment for some little time, using several boxes. I was thoroughly cured. I gave a testimonial at that time recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to others. It is now eight years since I made that statement, and I am glad to be able to say that the cure was permanent."

COMMISSION IS CONSIDERING SITES

LICKING COUNTY PROPOSITION SUBMITTED TO BOARD ON WEDNESDAY.

Jesse E. Snelling and Dr. Postle Have an Appointment to Present Black Hand Offer.

The state commission to select a site for the new tuberculosis hospital is in session this week at Columbus hearing from persons who have the land to offer for the purpose. The commission comprises Governor Herriek, Auditor of State Guilbert, Attorney General Ellis, Dr. C. O. Probst of the State Board of Health, and Judge J. B. Driggs, of Portsmouth. Governor Herriek is not present, as he is now ill with the grip in New York.

On Monday the commission heard from several Central Ohio land owners. Tuesday Northern Ohio propositions were received. On Wednesday people from the vicinity of Cincinnati and from Licking county will be heard, and on Thursday Southeastern Ohio will be given the floor. Propositions were made Monday by C. H. Stansbury of Urbana; C. H. Honawalt, Mt. Sterling; S. S. Wheeler, for George E. Butler, Belle Center, Hardin county; Dr. R. S. Courtwright, Lithopolis; Dr. J. E. Russell, Mt. Vernon; Citizens' committee from Bellefontaine, representing their county, but no particular site. Four sites in Logan county represented by John E. West, C. D. Campbell, H. W. Renkert and John P. Aiken; J. J. Moore, two sites, Fountain Park; Gord & Price, Tremont City; a site in Champaign and one in Clark county; J. Cooper, Mt. Vernon; John H. Wilson, Springfield, and Bolin & Bolin, agents, Circleville.

On Wednesday Mr. J. E. Snelling of this city and Dr. Postle of Black Hand, so before the board to offer 400 acres near Black Hand. A description of this land and outlines of the proposition appeared in the Advocate last week.

Mr. Snelling told the Advocate Tuesday noon that no opposition whatever has developed and that a number of influential people have expressed a desire to see the institution located in Licking county. A rumor was current a few days ago that the location of the hospital in this county would be opposed by the traction company, but Mr. Snelling announced that he has the hearty co-operation of General Manager J. R. Harrigan.

The property at Black Hand completely fills the bill and is just the kind of a site that should be accepted. This can not be said of all the 70 odd locations that are offered.

PATENT MEDICINE TESTIMONIALS

HOW EASILY OBTAINED.

Leslie's For March Tells the Story.

Leslie's Monthly Magazine in the March number publishes a large article entitled "The Making of a Medicine Man, or Dosing the Public as a Business." In that article they say many things that are of interest to the laity. One of their remarks is, "If a man were to enter into the proprietary medicine business the least of his troubles would be to secure testimonials." They say the first thing to obtain is a plan of advertising, second, the testimonials, and third, the medicine.

We were sufficiently interested in this subject to send our reporter over to call on Mr. Frank D. Hall, to ask his views of this article. The first question asked Mr. Hall was, "Are the testimonials published for patent medicines bonafide or fictitious?" A quick response was made "Bonafide when they appear above my name. I don't know about the general proprietary medicine testimonials published, but I do know that any testimonial published over my name is real and it is genuine. I must know it is so because every time I publish a testimonial in the newspaper, advertising some one of the Rexall Remedies which I have spent a good deal of money on, I know that many of my customers read it. Many find they have the same symptoms as the person who signed the testimonial, and they come to my store to buy the advertised article. If they are not cured they think that testimonial fictitious because they cannot understand why it doesn't cure them if it cured a person with the same symptoms. We guarantee these people who come this way a cure, otherwise we refund them their money."

"Now we are very careful what we guarantee as it means a considerable loss to us when we have to refund the money, and for that reason you can readily see why we are compelled to publish true testimonials, as for example this one, sent in voluntarily, without request on our part for Rexall Mucu-Tone Catarrh Cure. It is strong evidence of the great value of that medicine as a tonic reconstituent at this particular season of the year."

"I have used three bottles of Rexall Mucu-Tone and cannot praise it enough. I suffered so much with catarrh for five years and tried many different kinds of medicines, but found no relief until I tried Rexall Mucu-Tone. A young friend of mine works in a wholesale house and has suffered with loss of appetite. I induced her to try Mucu-Tone and I never saw such a change in any one. I advised all of my friends to try it for I think it is a wonderful medicine." Mrs. W. D. Young, 1604 N. Summer St., Nashville, Tenn.

"We are selling hundreds of bottles, yet our refunds on the guarantee of your money back if not benefited are infinitesimally small; in fact, they amount to less than one per cent, and with such a broad guarantee you certainly see that it is very easy to obtain testimonials for an article of as great merit as Rexall Mucu-Tone."

"We even put out large trial bottles at 50 cents and guarantee them to produce results. Experience has taught us the great value of this medicine."

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HAUNTED.

In city mart or quiet street,
Deep in some calm backwoods retreat,
In palace or in lonely cot,
In some far clime, secluded spot,
Or by the moaning, murmuring sea,
That face, that face, is haunting me!

A shadow ever o'er my way
To check me when I would be gay
A presence with me through the day
And in the shades of evening gray,
In cloister or market place
Before me is that face, that face.

In barroom or in ballroom grand,
With ladies fair on every hand,
Or where the politicians mix,
Slates and the people dear to fix,
Whenever I stir, may be,
That face is there and haunting me!

Shades of Bill Jones, for pity's sake,
Is there no way that face to shake,
No chance at all to lose the thing
That keeps me always on the string.
Or is it really my own slay
Offhand a bill collector—say?

How Did They Do It?

In the accounts of the able and distinguished gentlemen of the days before the flood who lived to be several hundred years old there appears to be one thing lacking.

A careless reader cannot at first discover what it is, but as he reads the account of the patriarch who counted off centuries as we might count weeks he instinctively misses some old friends from the account.

What is it? They were kind husbands and indulgent fathers and prolific grandfathers. They never ran for congress or, as far as we know, traded horses on a cloudy day. Then why do we pause and shake our heads and look for something else between the lines?

Told! It is because we are nowhere allowed that they smoked a pipe all of their lives. In modern times we always get a statement of that kind thrown in for good measure with every account of a man who has lived to be over 100 years.

Just a Joke.

And so they charged it up to fun.

"Aw, he got in trouble at school today."

"What was de ruction?"

Blow winds of March, both night and day
Without an intermission;
Proceed, then, with your rough house play;
You have my full permission.
You'd do it anyway.

Extremes.

"Do they get along well together?"

"Yes; she treats him as a spoiled child."

the locomotives and other rolling stock from the line between Sianlinlin, Koupangetse and Yinkow. It is said in certain high quarters here that the Chinese are justified in taking this course, as the high-handed action of the Japanese in endeavoring to force them to violate neutrality by carrying contraband of war left them no alternative, notwithstanding the fact that the loss of revenue will be a serious one, probably resulting in the deterioration of the bonds of the railway.

Neutrality Not Violated.

Washington, March 14.—From the foreign office at Tokyo the Japanese legation has received a dispatch bearing on the report that the Russian government has again drawn the attention of the powers with a statement to the effect that the imperial troops were guilty of a violation of Chinese neutrality, as their appearance behind the Russian province must have been effected by taking a route through Mongolia. "As a matter of fact," the Japanese dispatch from Tokyo says, "the imperial forces have never passed through Mongolian territory, while Russia had long been drawing supplies from Mongolia and always has been sending there disguised or armed troops which, intimidating native princes and people, have caused them to render assistance to the Russians in the rear."

Russian Prisoners.

Newchwang, March 14.—The question of transporting and caring for the thousands of Russian prisoners is now engrossing the attention of the Japanese authorities. It is said over 40,000 will be sent to Japan by way of Dalny, and that large numbers will be shipped from Yinkow as soon as the Liao river opens. Japanese officers arriving say that Russian soldiers are surrendering in a constant stream, and that great bodies of men kneeling beg the mercy of the victors. Starving, wounded and half-frozen Russians, the officers say, are hiding in the countryside, and as their escape is impossible they must either surrender or starve to death, the country being denuded of provisions.

Deed of Terrorists.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—Further terrorist attempts are reported. Lieutenant Kouloff of the Volga Cossacks has been mortally injured by revolutionaries in the courtyard of his home at Kremenchug, in revenge, it is supposed, for his share in suppressing the disorders in Moscow. M. Hoffenberg, chief of police at Minsk, was attacked by a man armed with a revolver, but escaped unhurt. Many officers concerned in the suppression of disorders have received threatening letters. Revolutionary proclamations have been discovered at Cronstadt, inciting sailors and dockyard workmen to refuse to fit out warships or, as an alternative, damage them so as to prevent their sailing.

Compliments the Japs.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—General Kuropatkin compliments the Japanese intelligence department. He says in a late dispatch: "Thanks to the organization of their intelligence department and their reconnaissance, the Japanese always knew the positions occupied by our army." In a dispatch dated March 12 General Kuropatkin says 50,000 Russians were wounded during the last few days' fighting.

COST 100,000 LIVES

An Error Committed by the Russian General—Details of Great Battle of Mukden.

With General Kuropatkin's Army in the Field, Northeast of Mukden, Sunday, March 12, via Fushan, March 14.—Every hour increases the magnitude of the disaster suffered by the Russians. Today 25,000 dead are known to have been left on the field, making the casualties at least 100,000. Between 50,000 and 60,000 prisoners, some 70 guns and enormous quantities of ammunition and provisions fell into the hands of the Japanese. The Japanese losses do not exceed those of former great battles, even General Kuroki's army losing only 5,000.

Field Marshal Oyama's plans completely deceived General Kuropatkin. The Russian commander misjudged the positions and strength of the Japanese. He at first thought that General Nogi's Port Arthur army was passing his east flank, and concentrated a great force there. This force he was afterwards obliged to ship to Mukden, where it arrived in a state of exhaustion after a forced march, and was unable to fight. A retreat from Mukden began March 9. It became a demoralized flight when the Russians discovered that their progress was being blocked by Japanese infantry and artillery on the east.

Saturday morning one division of Japanese encountered several Russian regiments retreating along the road to Tie Pass. The Japanese descended from the hills upon the Russians, who attempted to break through the lines. After a sharp engagement in which the Japanese guns did great execution, 4,000 Russians surrendered with their guns. The Japanese lost 100.

RUSSIA'S NEW FOE

Cholera—No Pause in the Reform Movement.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—In the midst of all the confusion incident to the defeat of the Russian army in Manchuria there is no pause in the great reform movement. The zemstvos of various governments, at a meeting held in Moscow and the Moscow Duoma have telegraphed the interior minister Boulganin a request which is practically a demand that they be represented on the commission formed under the imperial rescript, and other local organizations are preparing to follow their lead. Minister Boulganin and his advisers are engaged in drafting the plan of the commission or assembly, but nothing has taken definite shape as yet.

Some improvement in the internal situation is noticed. Confronted with 3,000 infantry and six squadrons of cavalry the peasant bands which for a week have created in parts of the governments of Orel, Tschernigoff and Kursk a reign of anarchy, several hundred arrests have been made. Up risings in other sections are yielding before the show of force, and unless another general mobilization should be ordered, there seems to be a probability that order will be restored.

Local authorities are preparing even now for an unexpected outbreak of cholera, building quarantine sheds and instituting restrictive measures on railway travel.

Engaged people should remember that after marriage many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters.

S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Hall's drug store, sells and guarantees them, at 50c bottle.

NEARLY THREE THOUSAND.Figures are Certified to County Auditor
Pitser Tuesday From Knox
County Court.

The cost in the trial of James F. and Robert C. Lingafelter have just been certified from Knox county to the office of County Auditor A. R. Pitser. The total amount is $2,816. The costs in the case will be paid by the State in case the conviction is upheld by the higher courts. This sum includes the amount allowed by the court to Mr. Stillwell who assisted Prosecutor Fitzgibbon and thus item of the costs is paid by Licking county. The court at first allowed Mr. Stillwell $1000 for the two cases but afterwards the amount was reduced to $600, as stated in Monday's Advocate.

Lingafelter Bankruptcy.

B. G. Smythe, attorney for J. P. Lingafelter, said in reference to the interview given in this paper Monday:

"Referring to the item which appeared in yesterday's Advocate concerning the disposition of the Lingafelter property and to his alleged indebtedness to the bank and Building association, you will say for me that all of said matters are disputed by Lingafelter and that a correct status cannot be known until a hearing of Mr. Lingafelter's defense has been made. It is unfair to publish as true matters which are still in litigation and undetermined."

HOARDED MONEY

If a person hides away a few dollars in a secret drawer or puts them in a small iron safe, does he consider it an expense? If he deposits them and receives credit in his savings bank book, does he class it as an expense? Why is it that so many men look upon a life insurance premium as an expense, and can not be induced to believe that it is not? When a person spends money for anything, it passes out of his possession. This is not the case with a life insurance premium. One deposits the money and it is kept for him awhile, and later it is given back again, with more added to it. It never passes out of his possession. It is his money just as much as if it were in a bank, and it is a great deal safer than if deposited in some bank. Give up the idea that insurance is an expense and see it in its true light. There is only one best company. The Eatable Life of New York, and it is the strongest in the world. O. M. and J. R. Tucker, agents.
